

As a resident of Indiana I feel strongly that our current telephone solicitation law is a good one.

Since the law was implemented we receive far fewer annoying calls and appreciate that our privacy is not intruded upon by unwanted sales calls.

Our family feels that any change in the law to make rules less restrictive would negatively impact our time at home and would put commercial interests ahead of our own.